

American Citizen. His career of glory through life was unstained by crime; and his death was felt as a loss by every individual of that community, whose political existence was the fruit of his exertions.

THE FAREWELL ADDRESS of General Washington is the condensed result of long experience, matured reflection and strong anxiety for the permanent prosperity of his country. His advice concerning the great importance of maintaining indissolubly the Federal Union; the danger of indulging too much in party feelings;—the necessity of supporting public credit at home;—of maintaining public faith in all our transactions with foreign nations; of encouraging foreign intercourse free from foreign attachments;—are so many lessons of prudence which we should do well to bear in constant remembrance. Why therefore should not his legacy of wisdom and affection, be so published, as to admit of being constantly before our eyes? An ornament to our apartments, while it serves as a memento to guide our public feelings, and to manifest that the author lives in our memories?

To make it such, is the aim of the proposed Edition.

The Publishers are determined that the Address shall be printed on paper of the same quality and size as the splendid edition of the Declaration of Independence now engraving, & shall in all respect be a companion worthy that great State paper.

As errors are known from various causes to find their way into the most important writings, the publishers feel it their duty, not only to satisfy themselves, but to satisfy the public, of the authenticity of the copy from which this splendid Edition of the Farewell Address shall be published.

Mr. GEORGE BRIDPORT will complete the Design; of which the following is an outline:—The introductory part of the Address, in highly finished ornamental penmanship, shall form the upper part;—the other parts of the plate, shall be appropriate ornaments;—in the centre below shall be engraved, from an historical design for this publication by Mr. Sully the Surrender of the British Army at Yorktown, October 19, 1781.

The Address itself shall be printed with type of a peculiar and a proper character, designed for this purpose by Mr. Fairman, and to be cut and cast by our best artists. No more of the type shall be cast than will be necessary to execute this Address; & when it shall be completed, the type and the matrices in which it was cast shall be utterly destroyed; so that no other work shall ever be executed by the same letter which shall have printed the "FAREWELL ADDRESS" of him who lived and died, first in War; first in Peace, and first in the hearts of his Countrymen.

The paper, of the first quality, 86 by 26 inches, will be made by Mr. Amies. The ink shall be carefully prepared, and of the best materials.

The signature of General Washington from which it is proposed to execute a fac simile for this publication, is that which he affixed to the Constitution of the United States, when he signed it as President of the Convention in which it was framed; & thus associating and concentrating some of the greatest events in the life of this great man and in the history of his Country.

The ornamental writing will be designed and executed in the very best manner; and the ornamental parts of the design and vignette, will be engraved by G. FAIRMAN; and the Typographical part executed by John Binnis. They will take especial care of the execution of their several duties in this respect, and they will call to their aid, all that liberality, zeal and industry can command from the Sciences and Arts, so as to make the "Farewell Address" no mean specimen of the state of the Fine Arts in the United States.

As much progress has already been made in designing and procuring materials for this splendid edition of Gen. Washington's "Farewell Address," it is expected it will be ready for delivery, with the Splendid Edition of the Declaration of Independence, in the month of December next. That the public may have a more perfect view of the design and style of execution, than can be given in a proposal, of this Tribute to the memory of him who was "a Conqueror for the Freedom of his Country! A Legislator for its Happiness," it is not intended to solicit any Subscriptions until the Ornamental parts of the plate shall be executed. It will then be submitted for public inspection and public patronage, at five dollars a Copy, payable on the delivery of the Engraving. Philadelphia, July 31st.

Exchange & Broker's Office,
Georgetown, District of Columbia.

ROMULUS RIGGS.
AT his office, next door below Crawford's tavern, Bridge-st. Georgetown, will exchange all kinds of Bank Notes on the most reasonable terms.—All persons who may have notes on the banks of North Carolina, South Carolina and Georgia, would do well to call on him, as he is largely in the purchase of that kind of money, and will take it on the most reasonable terms.—Persons travelling to the Western Country may at all times get the Bank Notes of the Western Banks at a fair discount, by calling at his Office. For the information of all persons throughout the U. States, R. Riggs makes it known, that all of the Banks of the District of Columbia pay their notes on demand in specie; and it would be much to the advantage of the merchants, and trading to the South and west, to encourage the circulation of the Notes of the Banks of Georgetown, Washington and Alexandria, as it will at all times answer for remittances to the large commercial and Atlantic towns;—all persons emigrating or travelling to the westward should be very particular and take the Notes of the Banks of the District of Columbia, as they will find them the most current, there being no counterfeits on the District Banks. The Merchants' Bank of Alexandria has long since failed—all persons should be on their guard, as they will be imposed on.

Ten Dollars Reward.
RAN away from the subscriber about the 4th of August, Negro Woman LOUIZA—she is 25 years old, about 5 feet 5 inches high, and stout; has some of her front teeth out, and is apt to laugh when spoken to; she has a sister Marianda and a mother living in Georgetown, one above Semmes's tavern, and the other at Herling Hill, where she has been harbored for two weeks, and left there to come home, but has not done so. I expect she can be found in Georgetown or Alexandria, where she has many acquaintances. I will give the above reward if brought home, or lodged in jail so that I get her again.

Advertisement.
ABSCONDED from the subscriber's service, on Saturday night the 16th inst. Negro woman TRACE or TREACY—she is five feet two or three inches high, about 30 years of age, of a very dark complexion, and when particularly examined is very apt to confound herself.—It is deemed unnecessary to mention her clothing, as she has all of them with her, and being extremely artful, she no doubt will change them and endeavor to pass for a free woman. She is well acquainted in Charles county, Prince George's, Alexandria and the City, as about 5 years ago she made her escape, and was 6 or 7 months about the Lower Ferry, leading to Alexandria, and from thence to Washington City, where she acquired an extensive acquaintance among the Negroes belonging to John Brent, esq.; and the greater part of said Negroes belong now to William and Robert Brent, esqrs. and Mr. Dudley Digges. Negro Trace has a scar on the back part of her neck, occasioned by a scorpion put for the benefit of her eyes, which are very weak at this time. I will give 10 dollars if taken in the county and secured in jail, or if out of the county and secured as aforesaid, so that I get her again, 25 dollars, and all reasonable charges paid if brought home. All persons are forewarned harboring or employing said Negro at their peril, as the law will be rigorously put in force against any offender.

Stop the Swindler.
FIFTY DOLLARS REWARD.
I WILL give the above reward for apprehending and lodging in any jail in the District of Columbia, a person by the name of JOHN POST, a Bricklayer and Stonemason, who has been at work for about two months past at Fort Washington, and was discharged on the 7th of September inst.—He says he was born in the state of New-York; is about 5 feet 9 or 10 inches high, and has sandy hair; he had with him an apprentice boy, nearly grown. A few days previous to his leaving Fort Washington he took the liberty of borrowing, in the name of Mr. John Colgren, from a lady at that place 15 dollars, which was not known till after he left it; and immediately after he was discharged and paid off, he forged two checks in the name of the subscriber, on the Farmers' Bank of Alexandria, one of which he procured the money for at the Bank, and the other he passed to a person in Alexandria, which was detected and refused.—Previous to his coming to Fort Washington, he worked in the City of Washington, where he said he intended to work again; but it is probable he has not stopped so near the theatre of his villainy. Persons are cautioned against being imposed on by him.

ALEXANDRIA GAZETTE AND DAILY ADVERTISER. PUBLISHED BY SAMUEL SNOWDEN, ROYAL-STREET.

Daily Gazette, 7 dols. Country, 5 dols.
WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 28, 1818

From the Franklin Gazette. STANZAS.

I love the man who well can bear
Misfortune's angry frown;
I love the heart that spurns despair,
Though all its friends have flown.

I love the soul, so nobly proud,
That misery cannot blight;
The soul that braves the jeering crowd,
And sternly claims its right.

I love that fortitude, refin'd,
Which sorrow cannot shake;
I love that strength of soul and mind
No earthly power can break.

I love the man who scorns to bend
Beneath affliction's blast;
Who trusts in an ALMIGHTY FRIEND
To smother his woes at last.

BOSTON BARD.

If Banking Institutions are indeed a blessing, our cup ought to be overflowing with happiness. It is stated upon very good authority, that there are not less than 375 Chartered Banks in the United States, and 8 in operation without charters. Of the 375 Chartered Banks, 36 are in Massachusetts; 15 in Rhode Island; 42 in the State of New York; 59 in Pennsylvania; 25 in Maryland; 15 in the district of Columbia; 28 in Ohio; 43 in Kentucky; and 17 in Virginia. [Charleston Times.]

A German paper, says the Boston Daily Advertiser, contains the following Dialogue between two Germans, on the fashionable toy called the Kaleidoscope.

A. Put into this instrument small substances of any description, bits of stone of all sizes and colors—then look through the magic tube, and you will see them all found in the most regular order. B. For God's sake then, put in immediately all the German states, that we may for once see some regularity in Germany.

POWER OF FASHION.

The following anecdote will show, in a striking manner, the influence of fashion, (and in this instance a most ridiculous fashion,) over the human mind.

A gentleman of large fortune fell violently in love with a lady, much inferior to him in point of property, but far superior in intellectual talents. He addressed her for some time with a zeal becoming her merits. But at length she told him she never could consent to marry him, till she had required a sacrifice, which she feared would be infinitely too great for him to make. If it be half my estate, said he, it shall cheerfully be laid upon the altar of love. That, said the lady, is but a trifle to what I am about to demand. If you would have the whole of my fortune, and myself for your slave, replied the suitor, I will not demur. It is more than all that, said the fair damsel. Name your terms, name your terms! cried the impatient lover—bid me wage war with giants, or fight the fierce lions of the desert; and my love for you shall make me victorious. Nay, order me to the Indies, to China, or Japan, and you shall be obeyed. The sacrifice is still greater than all that, said the lady. For compassion's sake then, cried he in despair, tell me what it is. It is no less than this, said she, that you shave off your monstrous whiskers, that I may have the pleasure of beholding your face! My whiskers! cried he in astonishment! My whiskers! O heavens! No, madam, be it known to you, I will not part with my whiskers, to obtain the heart and hand of any daughter of Adam now existing on the face of the earth. [Charles. Times.]

The late Earl of Guildford being told that his large gouty shoes had been stolen,—"Well, well," said his lordship, with his usual pleasantness, "all the harm I wish the thief is, that the shoes may fit him."

THE UNLUCKY THIEF.

A thief in Maryland, having stolen a hog, had tied its legs together after killing it; and for the convenience of carrying it, he let the hog rest on his shoulders, while the rope with which it was tied, went over his breast. On his way home, finding himself fatigued, he laid the hog in the crotch of a tree, about the height of his shoulders, in order to rest himself. But the hog slipping through, the rope that was round the man's breast slipped up to his throat, and immediately choked him to death; and in the morning they were both found dead, the one on one side and the other on the other side of the tree. Thus the thief hanged the hog, and the hog in his turn hanged the thief.

THE DISCONTENTED SQUIRREL. (Selected for Emigrants.)

In a pleasant wood on the western side of a ridge of mountains, there lived a Squirrel who had passed two or three years of his life very happily. At length he began to grow discontented, and one day fell into the following soliloquy—

What! most I spend all my time in this spot, running up and down the same trees, gathering nuts and acorns, and dozing away months together in a hole!—I see a great many of the birds who inhabit this wood ramble about to a distance, wherever their fancy leads them, and at the approach of winter set out for some remote country, where they enjoy summer weather all the year round. To be sure I have not wings like them, but I have legs nimble enough; and if one does not use them, one might as well be a mole or a dormouse.

I dare say I could easily reach to that Blue Ridge which I see from the tops of the trees; which, no doubt, must be fine place, for the sun comes directly from it every morning, and it often appears all covered with red and yellow, and the finest colors imaginable. There can be no harm at least in trying, for I can soon get back again if I don't like it—I am resolved to go, and I will set out to-morrow morning.

When Squirrel had taken this resolution, he could not sleep all night, for thinking of it; and at peep of day, prudently taking with him as much provision as he could conveniently carry, he began his journey in high spirits. He presently got to the outside of the wood, and entered upon the open moors that reached to the foot of the hills.—These he crossed before the sun was high; and then, having eaten his breakfast with an excellent appetite, he began to ascend. It was heavy, toilsome work, scrambling up the steep sides of the mountain; but Squirrel was used to climbing, so for a while he proceeded expeditiously.—Often, however, he was obliged to stop and take breath; so that it was a good deal past noon before he had arrived at the summit of the first cliff. Here he sat down to eat his dinner; and looking back, was wonderfully pleased with the fine prospect. The wood in which he lived, lay far beneath his feet; and he viewed with scorn the humble habitation in which he had been born and bred.

When he looked forwards, however, he was somewhat discouraged to observe that another eminence rose above him, full as distant as that to which he had already reached; and he now began to feel stiff and fatigued. However, after a little rest he set out again, though not so briskly as before. The ground was rugged, bleak and bare; and to his great surprise, instead of finding it warmer as he got nearer the sun, he found it grow colder and colder. He had not travelled two hours before his strength and spirits were almost spent; and he seriously thought of giving up the point and returning before night should come on.

While he was thus deliberating with himself, clouds began to gather round the mountain, and to take away all view of distant objects. Presently a storm of mingled snow and hail came down, driven by a violent wind, which pelted poor Squirrel most pitifully, and made him quite unable to move forwards or backwards;—besides he had completely lost his road, and did not know which way to turn towards that despised home, which it was now his only desire again to reach. The storm lasted till the approach of night; and it was as much as he could do, to huddle and weary as he was, to crawl to the hollow of a rock at some distance, which was the best lodging he could find for the night. His provisions were spent—so that hungry and shivering he crept into the furthest corner of the cavern, and rolling himself up, with his bushy tail over his back, he got a little sleep, though disturbed by the cold and the shrill whistling of the wind among the stones.

The morning broke over the distant tops of the mountains, when Squirrel, half frozen and famished, came out of his lodging and advanced, as well as he could, towards the brow of the hill, that he might discover which way to take. As he was slowly creeping along, a hungry kite soaring in the air above, descried him, and making a stoop, carried him off in her talons. Poor Squirrel losing his senses with the fright, was born away with rapidity, and seemed inevitably doomed to become food for the kite's young ones: when an eagle who had seen the kite seize her prey, pursued her in order to take it from her: and overtaking her, gave her such a buffet as caused her to drop the squirrel in order to defend herself.

The poor animal kept falling through the air a long time, until at last he alighted in the midst of a thick tree, the leaves and tender branches of which so broke his fall, that though stunned and breathless, he escaped without material injury, and after lying awhile came to himself again. But what was his pleasure and surprise to find himself in the very tree which contained his nest.—Ah, (said he) my dear native place and peaceful home, if ever I am again tempted to leave you, may I undergo a second time all the miseries and dangers from which I have now so providentially escaped!

RAPID SAILING.

The sloop Ocean, Captain Joseph Middleton, engaged as a regular packet between this port and Alexandria, has been remarkable for the despatch with which she has generally performed her trips—but in her last passage from Alexandria, she far surpassed any thing she has heretofore effected. She left Alexandria at half after 11 o'clock on Thursday morning, and arrived here at 10 o'clock yesterday—a distance of 240 miles in 22 hours, having two no other sail set during the passage, but a reefed main-sail. We believe the same distance has seldom, if ever, been run in as short a time, with so little sail set.

Com. Cassin, who has been to the North for the benefit of his health, came passenger in the Ocean.

The General Assembly of the Island of Jamaica have voted to present a memorial to the British Prince Regent, representing "the dreadful evils which they are threatened with" by the new navigation system with the U. States—and praying that measures may be adopted to avert them. [Franklin Gaz.]

DOMESTIC WINE PROSPECTS.

Intelligence from the industrious vine dressers at Vevay (Indiana) under date of 15th Sept. states that they have the most heart-cheering prospects this season; that their beautiful vineyards present the most sublime appearance, and that they have every reason to suppose that their labors will be crowned with the most abundant vintage that they ever witnessed. [Ibid.]

IMPORTANT.

We have it from authority which we deem next to official, that our differences with the Court of Madrid ARE SETTLED.—The Floridas are OURS, and our government is to pay the American claims against Spain. [New-York Gazette.]

ESCAPE OF A COUNTERFEITER.

A man, who calls himself John L. Schuyler, was, in June last, imprisoned for passing counterfeit money, and when apprehended was in possession of several hundred dollars of spurious bank bills.—During his trial at Flatbush, before Judge Numan, Schuyler acted the part of a maniac. In the presence of the Court, and while the judge was on the bench, he amused that honorable body with all kinds of grimaces, and every now and then threw a somerset. At intervals he would try on the hats of those nearest him, and grin at the court. At times he would dance a hornpipe, and at others "cut a pigeon wing." The finest caper of all was that which he cut just as the judge began to pronounce his sentence. He made a splendid somerset over the top of the railing of the Court-House cage, and repeated them several times down the stairs, over the heads of the by-standers—and with a hat on his head which did not belong to him made his final escape to the woods back of the Court-House. [Ibid.]

Eastport, Oct. 12.

On Monday last, we had a strong gale from the S.W. A number of vessels were driven from their anchorage, and one ship went on shore, but received no material injury.

Prolife.—On Saturday evening, 3d inst. the wife of Mr. Henry Card, of Deer Island, N. B. was safely delivered of four perfect and well grown daughters. We are sorry to add that they survived but a few days.

A few days since a shoal of Herrings were driven ashore on this island, at mid-day, when a number of fishermen with dip-nets, took four hundred barrels of fine herrings.

A French paper mentions that the Sieur Menuier had been brought before the Correctional Tribunal in Paris, for having prepared and sold a certain quack medicine, which he called, a "Depurative Liquor against inveterate chronic diseases." He was sentenced to 6 months imprisonment, to pay 1,000 francs towards the support of the Hospitals, and a fine of 1,000 francs towards the state, as having practised as a relapsed quack. In violation of the law respecting the Medical art. [Charleston Times.]

NEW PLAYING CARDS.

Paris, August 19.

"The king has ordered that a new kind of playing cards, invented by the Sieur Housgan, and bearing figures taken from our history, shall be adopted after the 15th September; and may be manufactured by all the trade."

This measure has been sneered at as frivolous; but the papers say, it has been adopted at the suggestion of an artist, to correct the jumble which is connected with the existing cards. France, they add, has a right to introduce the alteration, as cards were first invented in France (in 1390, to direct Charles VI.) The first inventor proposed, by the four suits, to designate the four great orders of men in the kingdom.—By the hearts, the clergy, &c. (gens de chœur) were meant. The spades, which originally were points of lances, intended the nobility, chevaliers, &c. The diamonds designated the merchants, mechanics, and citizens, who enrich and adorn a country. And the clubs (corruptly so called, for the original figure was the trefoil (clover) leaf) alluded to the farmers, peasants, &c. The four kings represented David, Alexander, Caesar, and Charles, and these names are attached to all the French cards to this day. The queens were Argine, Esther, Judith and Pallas. The knaves designated servants, or armour-bearers of the kings &c. Knave originally meant only a servant. In some of the old bibles, one of the epistles begins—"Paul a knave of Jesus," &c.

THE INDIANS.

Extract of a letter from our Correspondent at St. Mary's, dated 13th Oct. I have seen a number of reports about the Indians in East Florida, in circulation in the papers, representing them to be very numerous and hostile. I give you, to contradict these statements, the following communication which I have lately received from St. Augustine; which may be relied on:

"St. Augustine, October 6.

"The reports respecting the Indians in this province are very erroneous; there are not on this side of the St. John's in the province, five hundred of them, including all ages and both sexes. The most I have ever seen in St. Augustine has not been more than twenty, including women and children. It is totally false that they have been supplied by the government here with ammunition: that I have seen have been generally brought in skins, which they barter for blankets, clothing, &c. They may perhaps get small quantities of ammunition also, from those persons with whom they trade; they could not, indeed, subsist without it. Those that I have talked with (for many of them speak English), are heartily sick of the war with the United States, and say they wish anxiously for peace. They appear to be perfectly sensible of their want of strength to contend with the United States; they say the war has been fermented by their worst enemies, and if it continues that they shall be totally exterminated.—They are now without the means of subsistence, except what they obtain from hunting; their corn fields have been destroyed; they are driven from their country and their homes without provisions, and nearly naked; and the coming winter they will experience the horrors of famine."

BRIQ COLUMBIA.

Arrived in our harbor yesterday afternoon the brig Columbia, Thomas, 23 days from Grenada. The Columbia belonged to Admiral Brion's squadron, and was brought off from Grenada by the persons now on board. The particulars of the case, as far as we have been enabled to collect them from a conversation with the crew, are as follows:—The Columbia was originally the Baltimore, of Baltimore; was captured during the late war, by H. M. ship Venerable, of 74 guns.—She was afterwards sold into the Venezuelan service, and was one of Admiral Brion's squadron at the attack on Guaira, (in the Gulf of Paria) on 23d Aug. last, on the first day of which she was taken by the Spaniards. She was, however, recaptured on the 24th, by the flag ship Victoria, (of which Thomas, who acts as Captain of the Columbia, was first Lieutenant) and proceeded with her to a port or bay in the island of Trinidad, called Chaguaran.—At this place, conceiving themselves under the protection of the British laws, the men, with Thomas at their head, demanded some explanation of Admiral Brion's conduct, in the attack on Guaira, during which, they concurred in stating his behaviour to have been cowardly in the extreme; keeping his ship aloof from danger as long as possible; when engaged, dodging and even laying flat on the deck to avoid the shot of the enemy; the utmost confusion prevailing on board. They also demanded some part of their pay and prize-money, of which they had received none for some time; this was refused, and they were threatened with severe punishment if they persisted in asking for it. Thomas then left the ship with about 20 of the men (on 1st Sept.) and proceeded to Grenada, whither the ship and brig also went. Upon Brion's arrival they endeavored to obtain the payment of their wages and prize money, being British subjects and Americans. But the British laws not recognizing the right of its subjects to enter the service of any foreign power, could afford them no redress; they therefore determined, as the only means of obtaining some compensation for their services, to cut out the Columbia, then lying in the Bay, near Brion's ship and the forts. Thomas and eleven others accordingly boarded her at midnight on the 30th ult. cut her cable and put to sea—no attempt being made to stop them. There were on board at the time, an officer, seven men and a boy, who were asleep. Four of the men (being only employed on board) were allowed the boat to go on shore; the officer, at his request, was put on board a vessel, which they fell in with bound to Savannah. Upon getting to sea they made for the United States. On entering the Capes, they were taken possession of by the Revenue Cutter, and sent to this place.

The brig has 5 guns mounted, (one a long 18 pounder on a pivot) and 14 in her hold is a very fast sailer, and has on board 17 persons, including a small boy.—Amongst them are, 7 Americans, 7 English and Irishmen, 1 Swede, 1 Portuguese, and the boy. The brig has experienced much severe weather, and her rigging is considerably injured by that, as well as the fire of the Spaniards in the attack on Guaira. There was but a small quantity of provisions and water on board at the time of leaving Grenada—supplies were obtained from vessels fallen in with on the passage.—The crew speak in terms of the utmost disgust of the Venezuelan service. [Beacon.]

BABYLONIAN MARRIAGES.

An auction of unmarried ladies used to take place annually at Babylon. "In every district (says the historian) they assembled on a certain day in every year, all the virgins of marriageable age." The most beautiful was first put up, and the man who bid the largest sum of money gained possession of her charms. The second in personal appearance followed, and the bidders gratified themselves with wives according to the depth of their purses. But, alas! there were some ladies in Babylon far whom no money was likely to be offered; yet these were also disposed of—no provident were the Babylonians. "When all the beautiful virgins (says the historian) were sold, the crier ordered the most deformed to stand up; and after he had openly demanded who would marry her with a small sum, she was at length adjudged to the man who would be satisfied with the least; and in this manner, the money arising from the sale of the handsome, served as a portion to those who were either of a disagreeable look, or had any other imperfection.

KAMCHATKA.

In a Calcutta paper brought by the ship Mentor, mention is made of the arrival of the Brig Brothers, from Ochotsk, on the coast of Siberia. The above vessel had sailed from Calcutta, and is stated to be the first that had attempted a trade from Calcutta to that quarter of the world. Her passage is said to have been favorable and pleasant from the Straits of Malacca, and that she had made the coast of Japan several times. She entered the harbor of Ochotsk on the 4th of October, which represented as a safe harbor, though vessels drawing over 12 feet are not able to pass the bar. She found the country entirely covered with snow—landed her cargo, and set sail in a few days, as the frost had begun to set in, and the ice rapidly to accumulate: the country is represented as being poor, though affording sufficient encouragement to keep up an intercourse with India, from which place in future their supplies will be drawn. The Russian government maintains five transports in those seas for the purpose of preserving the necessary intercourse with Kamtschatka; and the Russian American company have from 12 to 15 sail employed at their settlements on the North West coast, which are stated to be increasing, and in order to provide them with requisite supplies, the company have possessed themselves of the Island of Moves, one of the Sandwich groups.

UNCERTAINTY OF LIFE.

Some years ago, a woman lived in a village of Glamorganshire, whose husband, with the little fortune he got with her, bought a small farm; he had hardly closed the purchase when death closed his eyes; however, not intimidated with this, the widow married a second husband, who sowed it; he likewise died; and she tried a third, who reaped it, but death soon snatched him away; she then married a fourth, who threshed it, but he also followed the fate of his predecessors; and she then married a fifth husband, with whom she enjoyed the produce of it.—All this happened within eighteen months!

Arrived, the brig Catharine, Welman, Havana, 14 days. The Schr Eagle, Sheerwood, for this port, sailed the day before the C. Left schr Comet, Anthony, uncertain when to sail. There were a number of pirates cruising off the ports of Cuba, plundering almost every vessel they met with. The brig Edward Foster, Couphos, 46 days from Gibraltar, arrived at Havana the day the Catharine sailed, and reported that she had been robbed of a considerable amount in specie, by a boat of 16 oars, the men armed with cutlasses, pistols, &c. There was a schr robbed of several articles at the time, by the same boat. The Catharine has experienced a continual succession of gales and head winds during the whole passage. There was nothing said at Havana of the reported session of the Florida to the Government of the U. S. although the arrivals from Cadiz were frequent. White coffee, in the Havana, was held up as high as 28 dollars—Green 30—and sales had been actually made, at these enormous prices.—Flour, Philadelphia and Baltimore, 19 dollars per barrel.

To Farmers and others.

THE Subscribers, just arrived from England, respectfully inform the public that they have formed an establishment at the upper end of King-street, in the town of Alexandria, where they propose to execute extensively, and in the most improved mode now used, the following Mechanical branches; viz: Mill work, of every kind, threshing machines, wheat fans, with most kinds of machinery, wagons, carts, ploughs, and every other implement used in agriculture—to which they will add the House Joiner's and Carpenter's Work. Threshing machines have become generally useful in England and Scotland, and it is presumed the American farmers will find it their interest to adopt them:—with the aid of two horses and three men, they will thresh fifteen bushels of wheat every hour. Their wheat fans differ from those in use here, and it is believed they are on a plan better adapted to the object. (C) They invite the public to call and examine their work, the neatness and durability of which, combined with great punctuality in executing any orders they may be favored with, will, they hope, entitle them to encouragement and support.
(C) Further information respecting them may be obtained by applying to Anthony Crease and James H. Hoos, esqrs. by whom they have been imported.

Valuable Land for Sale.
HAVING more land in the tract on which I reside than I can farm to advantage, I will expose to public sale, on the 5th day of NOVEMBER next, if fair, if not the next fair day, eight hundred acres, divided into lots of two hundred acres; each lot has seventy acres in wood—of the cleared land one hundred and fifty acres are in clover, and two hundred in rye and wheat. This land is situated ten miles below Alexandria, and is bounded north and east by Accotink creek, which separates the lower part of it from Jonathan Janney's mill, where the Alexandria price can be had for grain. It is as fertile as any land in the county, and as susceptible of improvement, by clover and plaster, as any I have seen. Persons wishing to view it will call on the subscriber, living at Cedar Grove, one mile below Janney's mill. The terms will be one-third of the purchase money in hand, and the balance in two equal annual payments. The sale will take place at 12 o'clock, on the premises.
EDGAR MCCARTY.

Gunston for Sale.
THIS elegant estate is situated on the Potomac, 16 miles below Alexandria—it is bounded on three sides by the Potomac and Pohick creek, and contains nearly 3,000 acres of land, level and fertile, to which are attached six shad and herring fisheries, two of which command the river channel. This land will be laid off in four tracts, so as to have one or more fisheries to each; these tracts will be again divided if requisite. This estate is level and beautifully situated, very fertile, and remarkably healthy. Plaster acts with an effect equal to that of any part of Virginia or Pennsylvania. I have used 500 bushels in twelve months, and such is its beneficial operation, that were I to keep this land I could considerably increase the quantity. A manufacturing mill is distant about two miles, on a stream navigable for vessels carrying 1200 bushels of wheat, where the Baltimore and Dist. of Columbia prices are given for grain; being bounded on 3 sides by water, a small extent only of fence is necessary to inclose the whole; it would be admirably adapted to grazing. The improvements are a large and very substantial brick mansion, 40 by 70 feet, with every necessary out-house, three commodious barns, houses for Negroes, and fish houses at each of the fisheries. 120,000 bricks and 1000 bushels of lime are just burnt on the premises. There is a considerable extent of live fence, both useful and ornamental, two orchards of well selected apples and peach, besides an abundance of other choice fruit. More than 150 acres are in clover, 200 in corn, and land is in preparation for sowing 250 bushels of small grain. Any quantity of hay can be cut from the low grounds, some of which (and all might), have been reclaimed at a trifling expense. The river and creeks, abounding with wild fowl, particularly canvas backs, the woods with deer and a variety of other game. Mules, cattle, highly improved sheep, farming utensils and household furniture can be had. The terms of sale will be accommodating. Property in any of the cities, negroes, bank stock, western lands, or lands near the Ridge, will be taken in payment. Letters must be addressed to me at Pohick Church, Fairfax county, Virginia.
September 4 GEORGE MASON.

Valuable Property for Sale.
THE subscriber is desirous of selling a handsomely situated farm, on Hunting creek, in Fairfax county Virginia, adjoining the Mount Vernon estate and the lands of general Thomson Mason, four miles from Alexandria, containing about 240 acres, 80 of which are in wood—40 to 50 in thriving meadow of clover and timothy—a part of the residue recently seeded with wheat and rye, and clover, last spring—the whole enclosed with a new post and rail fence. The improvements are, a comfortable and convenient frame dwelling house and kitchen, smoke house, poultry house, granary and stables. There is on this place a rich and productive garden, and a large body of marsh meadow, from which may be saved annually 100 tons of hay, nearly as nutritious as the best timothy or clover. With the farm would be sold a number of very valuable horses, cows and sheep; waggon, carts, and a variety of farming utensils and household and kitchen furniture; corn, oats and rye, and 40 tons hay. Also, adjoining the one above described, a farm containing 160 acres, recently enclosed, on which is a brick house, which a trifling expense would render comfortable. The soil is excellent, and a considerable part might be easily converted into meadow—it would be sold with the other or separately. Also, a number of valuable servants, male and female. To prevent unnecessary application, he would observe, that they will only be sold to persons residing in the District or its vicinity, and not to be carried from it. The subscriber will also sell the greater part of his household furniture, which is new and handsome. For terms of, all or any part of the above property, apply to NOBLET HERBERT, esq.
Oct 8 FRANCIS ADAMS, Jr.

To Rent.

For Sale.
A valuable Farm in Jefferson County. BY virtue of a decree of the Superior Court of Chancery for the Fredericksburg District in Virginia, in a suit wherein the Executors of Gen. George Washington were complainants; and Gerard Alexander, Thomas L. Alexander, (by Ludwell Lee, his appointed guardian) Ludwell Lee, R'd. H. L. Washington, John A. Washington, Bushrod C. Washington, and Mary Lee Washington, were defendants, will be exposed to sale to the highest bidder on the premises, on FRIDAY the 20th day of November next, all that tract of land lying in Jefferson County Virginia, on Bullskin, commonly called Rockhall, containing 540 acres, now in the occupation of John Saunders. The above tract of land lies about sixteen miles from Winchester, and about six from Charlestown, on the main road leading from Winchester to Baltimore, the city of Washington and Alexandria. It is well adapted to plaster and clover, and is in quality little inferior, if at all, to any farm in that fertile valley. The improvements on it are a large two story frame dwelling house, a barn and other necessary out houses. The water is limestone and of excellent quality. The terms of sale will be one-third of the purchase money, and the balance to be paid with interest, in one, two and three annual instalments, to be secured by a deed of trust on the property. Any person wishing to view the land will be shown it upon application to John A. Washington or Bushrod C. Washington, living near it.

September 8

Land for Sale
THE subscriber offers for sale a tract of 80 acres of land, on the Colchester road, five miles from Alexandria, adjoining the lands of Haywood Foote and Dennis Johnston. The greater part of this tract is fine meadow land, abundant in water. Also one other tract of 261 acres, on the Ravensworth road, about 6 miles from Alexandria, and one mile from the first mentioned tract, adjoining land of Thos. Janney and Mr. M'Pherson: the greater part of this tract is in wood, the soil good and highly susceptible of improvement from the use of plaster. If these lands are not sold before the first of January next, they will then be for rent.

Auction & Commission Store.
NATHL. P. BIXBY & CO. respectfully inform their friends and the public generally, that they have taken that large and commodious store formerly occupied by the late Mr. Thomas Robinson, nearly opposite the Union Bank, Bridge-st. where they will transact all kinds of business in the Auction and Commission line; and as they are determined to give their exclusive attention to that business alone, those gentlemen who are disposed to employ them, have the best guarantee that they will be fairly dealt by. They flatter themselves that a punctual, diligent, and correct attention, together with their general knowledge of business, will secure to them at least an equal share of public patronage. Their intention is to avoid, as much as possible, retailing goods at auction. They are now prepared to receive goods of every description, to sell at public or private sale, and will attend to sales of property at any place within the town.

Gone to the Southward or Westward.
A YELLOW WOMAN, called Celia A. Detcher, in the 23d year of her age, about 5 feet 2 or 3 inches high—marks like moles on the right side of her face, which, with several lesions on her left arm, were made with India ink. She is about four months gone in a state of pregnancy—followed her husband, Jim Clark, a yellow man, who was purchased from this place and taken away in company with a large number of slaves, about two weeks ago, by a man of the name of Bassett. It is supposed they have gone to the westward: Celia was born free, and had with her a notarial certificate of her freedom, and description of her person. Her mother, the subscriber, is much afflicted by her manner of going away, and desires that any humane people who may chance to meet with her, will persuade her to return, being apprehensive that when she gets into a strange country, where she will be unknown and out of the reach of her friends and those who would be likely to protect her, attempts may be made by some avaricious and unprincipled persons, to deprive her of her liberty, and sell her for a slave. Should any such attempts be made, fifty dollars reward will be paid to any person who will communicate such information as shall lead to the conviction of the offenders, and the recovery of the woman.
HANNAH DETCHER.
Alexandria, October 6, 1818.

Notice.
THE stockholders of the Fire Insurance Company of Alexandria are hereby notified, that an election will be held on the first Monday in November next, at their office, for twelve Directors for the ensuing year. The poll will open at 10 o'clock A. M. and close at 2 o'clock P. M. The transfer-book will be closed on Wednesday the 28th instant, till after the election.

PROPOSALS.
By Gideon Fairman, John Binns and Charles S. Parker,
TO PUBLISH
A Splendid Edition of Washington's Farewell Address,
To the People of the United States.

THE world has seen enough of warriors and of Heroes—enough of Statesmen—of men who have guided armies in the field, or dictated as Sages in the Cabinet, for the exclusive purpose of Ambition. History from its earliest page to the present day, has offered to our contemplation, only one WASHINGTON, but one MAN, whose dangers in war, and labors in peace, were undertaken and supported with a single eye, to the benefit of his country; whose wonderful and honorable success, was the plain result of wisdom in design, and valor in execution; whom danger never appalled, nor defeat depressed; who, persevering in the justice of his cause, wooed Victory till he won her: who coveted no reward but the well earned approbation of those whose interest he lived to promote; who renounced all public honors, when they ceased to be the necessary instruments of good to the people, whose gratitude conferred them: who superior to all Monarchs, was content to be called the American Citizen. His career of glory through life was unstained by crime; and his death was felt as a loss by every individual of that community, whose political existence was the fruit of his exertions.

THE FAREWELL ADDRESS of General Washington is the condensed result of long experienced, matured reflection and strong anxiety for the permanent prosperity of his country. His advice concerning the great importance of maintaining indissolubly the federal Union: the danger of indulging too much in party feelings: the necessity of supporting public credit at home:—of maintaining public faith in all our transactions with foreign nations: of encouraging foreign intercourse free from foreign attachments:—are so many lessons of prudence which we should do well to bear in constant remembrance. Why therefore should not his legacy of wisdom and affection, be so published, as to admit of being constantly before our eyes? An ornament to our apartments, while it serves as a memento to guide our public feelings, and to manifest that the author lives in our memories?

To make it such, is the aim of the proposed Edition.
The Publishers are determined that the Address shall be printed on paper of the same quality and size as the splendid edition of the Declaration of Independence now engraving, & shall in all respects be a companion worthy that great State paper.

As errors are known from various causes to find their way into the most important writings, the publishers feel it their duty, not only to satisfy themselves, but to satisfy the public, of the authenticity of the copy from which this splendid Edition of the Farewell Address shall be published.

Mr. GEORGE BRIDPORT will complete the Design; of which the following is an outline:—The introductory part of the Address, in highly finished ornamental penmanship, shall form the upper part;—the other parts of the plate, shall be appropriate ornaments:—in the centre below shall be engraved, from an historical design for this publication by Mr. Sully the Surrender of the British Army at Yorktown, October 19, 1781.

The Address itself shall be printed with type of a peculiar and appropriate character, designed for this purpose by Mr. Fairman, and to be cut and cast by our best artists. No more of the type shall be cast than will be necessary to execute this Address; and when it shall be completed, the type and the matrices in which it was cast shall be utterly destroyed; so that no other work shall ever be executed by the same letter which shall have printed the "FAREWELL ADDRESS" of him who lived and died, first in War; first in Peace, and first in the hearts of his Countrymen.

The paper, of the first quality, 36 by 26 inches, will be made by Mr. Amies. The ink shall be carefully prepared, and of the best materials. The signature of General Washington from which it is proposed to execute a fac simile for this publication, is that which he affixed to the Constitution of the United States, when he signed it as President of the Convention in which it was framed; Thus associating and concentrating some of the greatest events in the life of this great man and in the history of his Country.

The ornamental writing will be designed and executed in the very best manner; the ornamental parts of the design and vignette, will be engraved by G. FAIRMAN; and the Typographical part executed by John Binns. They will take especial care of the execution of their several duties in this respect, and they will call to their aid, all that liberality, zeal and industry can command from the Sciences and Arts, so as to make the "Farewell Address" no mean specimen of the state of the Fine Arts in the United States.

As much progress has already been made in designing and procuring materials for this splendid edition of Gen. Washington's "Farewell Address," it is expected it will be ready for delivery, with the Splendid Edition of the Declaration of Independence, in the month of December next. That the public may have a more perfect view of the design and style of execution, than can be given in a proposal, of this Tribute to the memory of him who was "A Conqueror for the Freedom of his Country! A Legislator for its Security! A Magistrate for its Happiness," it is not intended to solicit any Subscriptions until the Ornamental parts of the plate shall be executed. It will then be submitted for public inspection and public patronage, at five dollars a Copy, payable on the delivery of the Engraving.
